

Recognition of the reviewers and section editors of Radiologia Brasileira

The publication of a high-quality, peer-reviewed scientific journal, such as Radiologia Brasileira, requires the efforts of and commitment from countless people who dedicate their time and expertise to ensure that it continues along its journey. In this article, we recognize our highly qualified editorial board, as well as our dedicated section editors.

In this spirit of gratitude, we would also like to highlight the role of the reviewers by citing them here, with special acknowledgment of a select group of those individuals, for making themselves available and for providing rapid, high-quality reviews, who have thus earned the 2023 Radiologia Brasileira Award of Distinction.

In addition to being recognized here, each awardee will receive a certificate of merit.
